

HE WILL REGISTER

Dennis Flynn Will Try for a Farm Himself.

HIS REASON FOR IT

He's an American Citizen and Has Homestead Right.

"Will I register and try to be drawn as a claimant of a claim?" asked Delegate Dennis T. Flynn of Oklahoma at the Santa Fe depot last night. "Well, that is just what I am going to do. I am going to try for a farm."

A little group collected around Oklahoma's champion and looked surprised. Whereupon Delegate Flynn said:

"Why not? I'm an American citizen. I have never used my homestead right and I am going to try to get the chance."

"Do you think you will be drawn?"

"Of course I don't know, but I've got an equal chance with the others, and I am not going to throw it away."

Speaking of the news from El Reno and the easy manner in which the registration is running there, Mr. Flynn said:

"It is governor Richards. When the government selected him for the management of this drawing it did the very best thing possible to be done. It could have searched the states and territories over for such a man and it could not have made a wiser selection. This is what I have said all along. He can see a scheme as far off as the shrewdest, he knows the way to handle a difficulty in the way of crowds is to meet it at once; he is up to the mark in organizing and getting the most out of an available force. That is why things are running so very smoothly at El Reno. It is managed well. There is a certain organization there. You would think discontent and disorder would be practically unavoidable, but you have few complaints along this line."

Further along on the new plan Mr. Flynn said: "Before the plan is consummated in its entirety everybody is going to stand convinced that this is an affair that has no 'inside' and that no one can get in as good a show as the next one. There are no favorites. The government has determined to have everything square and everything will be."

Mr. Flynn was returning to Guthrie. He had been to Newton to meet his family. Mrs. Flynn, Miss Dorothy Flynn and the two boys Eugene and Stanley, who have been in California for three months. Mrs. Flynn, who has been ill, is very much improved and the whole family will be glad to get back to Oklahoma.

It Dazzles the World.

No discovery in medicine has ever created more interest of the excitement that has been caused by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, who have been on hopeless victims of Consumption, Phthisis, Hemorrhage, Debility and Prostration, thousands of whom it has restored to perfect health. For Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Hay Fever, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough it is the quickest, surest cure in the world. It is sold by Gehring's pharmacy via guarantee satisfaction or refund money. Large bottles $2 and $1. Trial bottles free.

JUDGE PRICE BACK

Well-known lawyer and jurist returned to Kansas.

Ex-Judge Frank Price of Ashland, Kansas, was in the city last night. The judge said he would like to be down in Oklahoma to see the crowds, but his agent recently at western Kansas is such that he has to make the opportunity to make homes in this state as by far better than in Oklahoma. Judge Price is re-established in the law business at Ashland and is doing well. He resigned the judgeship which he held for years in Western Kansas and went to Ohio, but he was too strong a Kansas man to stay away from the state. Judge Price is one of the most respected and most popular men in the state and country and his return is a matter of gratification to everybody. It is probable that Judge Price will join in the law business after the session of the court at Ashland. They will make a great team of lawyers.

Scientific Facts and Notes.

Yesterday morning quite a little excitement was created in the circles close when a plane of gasolene fell from the ceiling in the back of the room. Prof. Knight thinks that in the lecture his request to come forward will be more generally complied with.

Members of the Institute were replying yesterday over the fact that they had been provided for the drinking water. This was indeed a welcome provision, and now if electric fans were furnished, life would be made quite comfortable.

The physiology classes are discussing the very absorbing subject of cooking. The institute can boast some members who would at least in the theory of this most useful art. Mr. Seneca is a very interested visitor at the sessions of this class. For he, too, knows the theory of cooking and perhaps wishes to increase his stock of information.

Despite the hot weather our number increases every day. Miss Clement Stewart enrolled yesterday.

AT POINT OF A GUN

Tramp Compels Arnold Hageman to Follow Him

FROM OHIO IN SIX DAYS

Ordered to Steal Anything, He Could Find.

Little Arnold Hageman told a very pathetic story to an Eagle reporter yesterday. He said that while picking up coal along the railroad track at his home in Burbank, Ohio, he was accosted by a stranger. The stranger informed him that he wanted him to go with him. The boy remonstrating, was told that either he would accompany him or he would shoot him on the spot, whereupon the stranger drew a 44-calibre revolver from his pocket. The little fellow being thoroughly frightened by this time, followed the tramp into a box-car that was in a freight train standing on an adjoining track. The tramp told him he would show him a good time and that Arnold was to call him "Jock". They staid in this box-car until reaching Mansfield, O., where they got out to catch another freight train to Marion, O. The boy in the meantime had to go around the back doors of different houses to ask for food to supply the tramp and himself. The tramp also told him that he wanted him to "swipe" anything he could lay his hands on; that is, he wanted him to steal, which the boy promptly refused to do. From Marion, when two "humps" another freight train to Indianapolis, Indiana, and from there rode to St. Louis, where they spent a whole day. They then stole rides from St. Louis to Monett and from Monett to Wichita, the tramp paid the fare for the two. After arriving in this city the tramp informed the boy that it was his intention to stay here for several days and that the boy would have to look out for himself from this on.

Arnold then went around to the different houses to secure some kind of employment for himself and in his rounds happened to enquire at the house of Mrs. Mosteller, who lives near the packing house. Mrs. Mosteller very kindly gave the boy something to eat and a place to sleep. The next day he again looked for something to do and happened to run across Mr. G. McPharland, who runs a little fruit stand on the corner of the alley adjoining J. C. Dunn's crockery establishment. McPharland, having himself been left an orphan at 14 years of age, took pity on the little fellow and employed him to take care of his fruit stand, after having bought the little fellow a clean shirt and clothing. Officer Fox happened to notice the little fellow several days ago when he was standing in front of the fruit stand, and he was very poor people, but judging from the mother's letter he was good, honest folk. In the letter to her boy the mother wrote that she had nearly worried herself to death and that she had been thinking all this time he had run away from home. She closed her letter and became a good, honest upright man and that she was constantly praying for his welfare. The little man is 15 years old, with dark eyes and set black hair. He is extraordinarily bright and has been a good student at school. He is very ambitious and his one ambition is to be able to earn money enough so that he can go home and attend school there.

A Poor Millionaire.

Lately starved in London because he could not digest his food. Early use of Dr. King's New Life Pills would have saved him. They strengthen the stomach, aid digestion, promote assimilation, improve appetite. Price, 25c. Money back if not satisfied. Sold by Gehring's pharmacy.

Hay Fever Victims

Annually Abandon Home, Friends and Business to Escape the Miseries of This Periodical Catarrh.

Were you ever at the station of a hay-fever resort during the latter weeks of August? Oh, the panting, weeping, snuffling, sneezing, coughing, husky-voiced throng! Disgusted with themselves, compelled to drop every interest and take an expensive journey to get relief from a most exasperating and misery-engendering malady. A dejected, listless, disgruntled crowd.

Just listen to their tales of woe. Says one, between snerzes, "I don't see how my business can spare me, but with this I was worse than useless there." Another wails: "I could have had a desirable school at a good salary but the term begins the first week of September and there I would be unable to do more than attend to my nose till after a heavy frost." Another: "This is the harvest time for my business and hirelings won't half gather it in." Another: "I had to run away from a dangerously ill child I should have nursed, but, in my condition I was a disturbing element instead of a factor for comfort in the sick room." And like complaints; not one out for fun, not one happy in the enforced exile; just prisoners to locality, waiting for news of a frost.

If these people early in the season had purchased Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box, and taken them faithfully so as to get their systems thoroughly under their influence, they would have been rendered immune to the excitement of autumnal catarrh, the plant dust that has no unpleasant effect on constitutionally perfect people. They could have attended to their duties or their pleasures and been spared an expensive journey and enforced exile.

A little folder and booklet on the cause and cure of hay-fever and catarrh, mailed free to all who apply. Address F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.
